Editor's Message

On the occasion of Republic Day of India,
26th January

It is a great pleasure to communicate to all of you a very happy Republic day.

On the occasion of the National Holiday on account of republic day of India, I am happy to send you my warmest congratulations and best wishes of happiness and prosperity to our country and our community.

This year, which is beginning of 2018, confirmed the eternal bonding among us for our brotherhood and strengthening of the partnership among Global Vayada residents.

On this occasion, we could again share with you the dynamism of community partnership forged in key sectors of various E wings and GCV. We are able to open even broader prospects through our Mobile App of Community and vastipatrak that meets our desire for openness and strengthening the brotherhood of Vayada Vanik Community.

The joint statement, which we published through 1st issues before few months reflects in particular, the quality of the social dialogues that allows us to discuss enrichment and important common interest issues.

I wish that the quality of our personal relations enriches at its peak, to which I am very attached, committed and allowed to actively continue to work on deepening the ties that unite our community.

Shri Vayada Vanik Seva Trust always remains with all of us to strengthen the hands of community surroundings.

WHAT IS MEANT BY REPUBLIC DAY?

Republic Day is a concept that is treated differently in psychology. In general, being democratic means to act and behave in accordance with one's own needs, perceptions or assessments, rather than with the demands of the environment or the opinions of others and totally stay out of dystopian thinking.

Democracy is freedom of thought and action.

Democracy is a critical mindset and a particular insight is a healthy cynicism and an unconditional belief in oneself.

Democracy is the ability to defend your point of view in any situation.

Democracy is a vision of the world through the prism of one's own perception.

The Democracy of the individual is expressed in so-called anti autocracy behavior..

Assertiveness (from the English assert - to insist on one's own) is a person's ability not to depend on external influences and assessments, independently regulate his own behavior and be responsible for it.

This concept is close to the principle of Gestalt therapy:

"I do not exist in order to meet your expectations; you do not exist in order to meet my expectations ... "

In ordinary life, the behavior pattern of most people tends to one of two extremes: passivity or aggression.

In the first case, a person who voluntarily assumes the role of a victim is led by insecurity, fear of change, or, conversely, a fear of losing what has already been acquired.

In the second - an obvious or veiled desire to manipulate others, subordinating them to their own interests. The aggressor is guided by the principle "you owe me, because I am stronger", the victim - "you owe me, because I am weak, and the weak need to be supported." Unlike these two common types of communication, assertiveness is based on a fundamentally different principle: "I owe you nothing, and you do not owe me anything, we are partners."

When it comes for leadership quality while the Republic day, We speak positive perhaps. "democracy means, independence from dictatorship. "

Direct Communication from Lord Krishna

My level of achievement allows me to stay in many forms at the same time. I'm Omnipresent.

The most common is my image in the form of a cowherd boy with a Musical pipe.

I really love this image the most, and it was in this image that I appeared in my earthly incarnation for the last time in Vrndavana. But also I took up Sudarshan Chakra when time came to save truth and participated passively in war of Mahabharat.

I gave my devotees a mantra, praising the names of God. I gave this mantra, because the mind of people during the cycle of Kali Yuga that began after my transition is not capable of perceiving exalted teachings.

I am Krishna , who came to you through this Messenger.

I am Krishna Lord Krishna I am known and respected in India . I am also known in all countries of the world due to my devotees and great followers .

In fact, I'm everywhere. I am at every heart and every human beings. I am in the form and I am formless, I am in the consciousness and I am in the Spirit too.

The mind is restless and unruly. Therefore, it is necessary to engage in constant reading of mantras, praising the names of God.

When the mind is busy repeating the names of God, then there is little time left for him to think low thoughts and experience low desires.

These mantras, the practice of reading mantras, allows you to keep the mind in check and obedience to the Higher Self of man.

I want people all over the planet to return to the practice of praising the name of God as the shortest Path leading back to God.

You become what your mind is aiming at. And if your mind is constantly focused on images advertised from TV screens and billboards, then such a mind is attached to this world and is not able to break away from this world.

The practice of praising the name of God does not require special conditions for its realization. You do not need to attend services and any church ceremonies, you do not need to belong to any religious group and any religious organization. All you need is to learn how to pronounce God's names correctly and pronounce these names in the right mind state. During the mantra, you must be completely focused on the Divine. Your mind must stop wandering around the objects and images that surround you in the physical world.

You have to think about God, and only about God.

It does not matter what you do when you read the mantra. You can wash dishes, go in public transport, work on your land, walk with children, stay at your workplace.

It will be good if you read the mantra out loud, maybe even in a low voice, so as not to disturb the people around you, but you can read the mantras and yourself, so as not to attract extraneous attention.

Always remember that you are reading these mantras for God, and not to impress the people around you.

Some devotees read God's names very much. They spend whole days reading mantras. Especially they like to read mantras with a large crowd of people, so that everyone can see how hard they serve God.

The effect of this reading of mantras will be exactly the opposite, because energy, Divine energy, in this case will be spent on strengthening the ego, and not on strengthening the connection with God.

I will give you my mantra. Please find people who can pronounce this mantra, buy cassettes with the recording of this mantra. It is very important that tapes with the recording of my mantras carry the correct Divine vibrations. Feel the true Divine vibrations with your heart.

If you or your loved ones are confused by the fact that you will read the names of God and praise the names of God in an unfamiliar language, do not force yourself.

In this case, you must use another practice that will lead you back to God.

There are many roads and many paths leading to God. Practically everyone has his own way.

But we must never forget that there are also many roads and paths that do not lead anywhere.

But if you sit with your hands and do not move anywhere, expecting a miracle, then, most likely, this miracle will not happen.

God needs you to make your own efforts. And the more you apply your own efforts, the more help you will get from above.

I give you my mantra. Promise me to read my mantra exactly as many times as you enjoy reading my mantra.

Read my mantra by doing your household duties. Use any free minute to read my mantra.

I know that many people in their previous incarnations came to the land of India. And reading mantras for them is a natural necessity. These people must respond to my call faster than others.

I give you my mantra, and I know that this mantra is able to awaken in you a historical memory and common roots that are laid

Hare Krishna Hare Krishna
Krishna Krishna Hare Hare
Hare Rama Hare Rama
Rama Rama Hare Hare

Repeat this mantra in Sanskrit.

The sounds of this mantra will give you strength, and joy, and cheerfulness, and self-confidence, in your future

I am Krishna. I feel your need for my help. And I will give you this help if you contact me.

And I will be glad if one of you takes my advice and read my mantra.

I AM Krishna

I came to you to bring to you, a piece of my love.

From Global Resources : Poems from Denmark

Danish Poem 1

"I see you behind my door of glass
Where the angels turn black
My longing (yearning desire) is a white palace
When the walls are gone
You stop in my porch and push for
Champagne (straw colour) brush...
It's our fellowship in our prayer. "

Danish Poem 2

"I touch the sun's turntable
And call to God
I call and hear my voice with echo
In the high loft hall the prayer in
Germ." (portion of organism capable of developing new)
A third ending:
"The Lord has attached a safety needle,
To my psyche (mind) it keeps me
Rank." (Single line soldier)

Confidence In Values for Maintaining The Democracy Of the National Spirit on Republic Day

In every country, modernization is being thought which is common and required theory of growth, but each has its own modernity.

The core values of Democracy are the "authoritative version" of India ' image, the "identity code" of India's ideology, and the "cultural card" of India's independence.

Our thinking is surpassing the value demands of "freedom, democracy and human rights" of capitalism and realizing the consequences of the core values of capitalism, signify that Independent India has stood at the commanding height of the moral values and the commanding height of values on.

Our values of self-confidence comes from the absorption of human civilization. Self-confidence does not mean arrogance. Whether we can face up to the weaknesses of our own culture or dare to absorb the superiority of foreign civilizations is precisely to judge whether a country is confident in its performance.

We do not oppose the value pursuit of freedom, democracy and human rights. It is not a patent of capitalism, but a civilized achievement jointly formed by the entire human society over a long historical process and a common pursuit of humankind. However, on the one hand, freedom, democracy and human rights are concrete, historical and not abstract. Every country and every era have different understandings.

On the other hand, the freedom, democracy and human rights promoted by the West are only the special values of the West that grew out of the soil of the West and proved unsuitable for India .

The Indian dream of realizing the great rejuvenation of our nation must not only be material but powerful, and its ideology, culture and values should be consciously, confident and self-reliance.

Consciousness, self-confidence and self reliance in values are the proper meanings of the Indian dream and are also the fundamental symbols of the self-reliance of the India

Every nation has a cultural symbol of their spiritual core and unique temperament, naming and aiming their core values.

The recognition of "self" identity by a national state depends not only on the common language, common area and common economic life, but also on the core values of the cultural soul it sticks to. It is the core values of independence and self-confidence, constitute the "who I am" identity password.

The formation of the core values is an important symbol of confidence in values. The core values are the "root" and "soul" of a nation, and the nation who lacking the values and confidence will eventually be reduced to a nation that has lost its foundation and is "distracted from falling asleep." The most enduring and deepest power of a nation and a nation is the core value commonly accepted by the whole society. The core values carry the spiritual pursuit of a nation and embody a meritorious social value criterion. Without a clear value orientation and value recognition in India, Indian dreams are incomplete. India cannot clearly define "who am I" in the context of globalization? , The uniqueness of "ego" cannot be clearly shown in the comparison with the "other".

Amazing Facts from around the World

We think we know everything about our planet, but we could not make a bigger mistake. Scientists have already discovered a lot about the planet, but they believe there are still many things waiting to be discovered.

See below few amazing facts about our planet, which you certainly have not heard before.

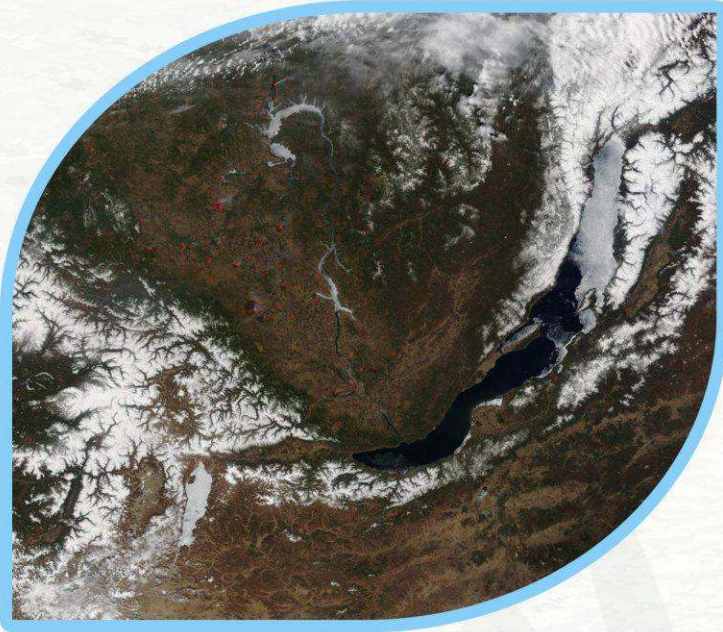

The Earth's atmosphere has borders

The Karman line is an internationally accepted line, located at an altitude of 100 kilometers above sea level. Although the level of the Earth's atmosphere ends much higher, this line is universally recognized as the boundary between atmosphere and space.

The driest place on Earth is in Antarctica

It is believed that the driest part of the Earth is in the Atacama desert in Chile, where it has not been wet for thousands of years. But the dry McMurdo Valley in Antarctica has not seen rain for nearly 2 million years. The winds here can reach 320 km / h.

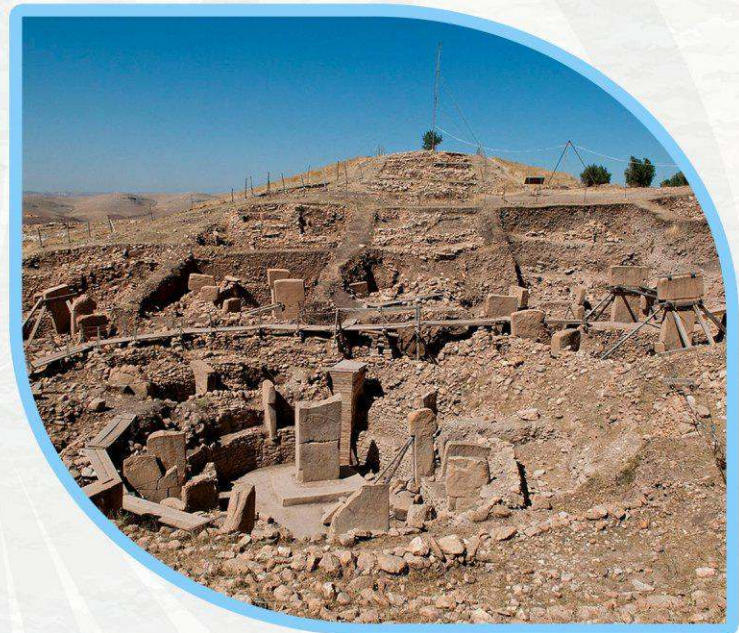

Fresh water accounts for 3% of all the Earth's water

The oceans and seas have 97% of the Earth's water, but their water is not drinkable. The remaining 3% of total freshwater is maintained in glaciers (70%) and Lake Baikal (20%)

The world's oldest temple is 12,000 years old

GebeckliTepe, the old known temple, is located in southern Turkey. Researchers believe the sculptures in the columns show that a meteorite dropped some 11,000 years ago, triggering a sudden decrease in Earth's temperature.

The Moon was once part of the Earth

Swedish scientists argue that 4.36 million years ago, planet Earth collided with the supposed planetary subject "Theia," and this conflict led to the formation of Earth's permanent natural satellite.

Most of the planet is in the dark

The Karman line is an internationally accepted line, located at an altitude of 100 kilometers above sea level. Although the level of the Earth's atmosphere ends much higher, this line is universally recognized as the boundary between atmosphere and space.

Neighboring countries have a 24-hour difference

Although the American Samoa is only 2,000 kilometers away from the Isle of Man Island that is part of Kiribati, the difference in time between these two neighboring states is 25 hours.

The oldest tree on Earth was already 1,000 years old when the last mammoths disappeared.

The oldest trees on Earth are the Bristol kown pines, which exist in the White Mountains of California and are over 4,000 years old. However, another tree that is over 5,000 years old has recently been found. It is said that the mammoths disappeared about 4,000 years ago.

Children's story : visit to the museum A story from France

"Say, you tell me a story ..." If you are out of ideas, here is a nice story that speaks of painting, mystery ... something to make your aspiring artist dream. It's good at night!

One Sunday, Lola and her mother go to the museum. Lola takes her paint box with her. - Lola, I'll let you watch at your own pace? That way, I can draw.

Lola likes it, when a canvas pleases her, try to copy it. In the end, it does not really look like the model is still there, as hidden inside.

Her mom left, she observes the paintings. There are not many people that day. Suddenly, one of them catches her attention.

We can see a river, where beautiful clouds are reflected, and a bridge that crosses it. Lola stays a moment ahead, without knowing why. She sits on a bench in front of the painting and places her box of paint next to her.

Soon, an old man comes in and settles next to her. He wears a gray suit and a big white hat. "Do you like this painting?" He asks Lola. - What's more than others? Why did you stop in front? Lola thinks. And suddenly, she said: - I know! This is the only painting where there is no one!

It's almost as if ... - Like someone missing? - Yes, as if someone was missing ... - Lola? Where are you? throw a voice. - I'm here, mom!

Lola gets up and says goodbye to the old man before joining her mother. They are almost outside when, suddenly, the little girl stops: - My paint box! I forgot it! Wait for me, I'll be right back!

She rushes into the room where the old man was standing. He is no longer there, but the box is on the bench.

Lola retrieves her ... and sees that she has been used ... Her gaze is on the painting of the river ... On the bridge stands a little girl now. Lola approaches and her eyes widen. This girl looks like own self ... Maybe it's not Lola, but Lola is still in the little girl on the deck, as if she's hidden inside. She smiles happily, "Thank you sir", she said in the empty room. Thank you, the old man will surely hear it. When she comes back.
